

GREAT RELIGIOUS AWAKENING

Hundreds of People Attend the Meetings Daily.

MANY PERSONS CONVERTED.

Dr. Leftwich is Conducting a Big Meeting at Granby Street Methodist. Dr. Broughton is Meeting With Fine Success at Freemason Street Baptist.

Not within the past thirty years has there been a greater interest manifested among the Methodist community in Norfolk on the subject of religion than at the present period and this is evidenced by the vast concourse that nightly attend the revival meetings now in progress under the ministrations of the Rev. Dr. Leftwich, of Nashville, Tenn., at

THE GRANBY STREET M. E. CHURCH. His earnest, powerful and persuasive preaching has been the means of awakening this deep interest, the fruits of which have been seen in the conviction and conversion of many souls. The edifice was filled to overflowing last night with an audience that seemed to be deeply absorbed in the service. Dr. Leftwich preached with great power and earnestness on "What is a True Confession of Christ," defining it to be a full and complete surrender of the human will to the conditions of the gospel, conditioned upon faith, which he declared to be the only key to salvation.

He said that when the sinner wills to come to Christ and exercises an appropriate faith in the promises of God, salvation is sure to be the result because God's promises never fail, and peace of conscience and happiness of the soul is the effect of faith, which is the cause.

The discourse produced a profound impression upon the congregation and many in the audience responded to the invitation to seek Christ, and went forward to the altar and made a public profession of faith.

There have been over one hundred conversions. Dr. Leftwich will preach again to-day at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. Rev. Dr. Hatcher, of Richmond, intended closing his work last night at the First Baptist Church, but the interest at that service was so deep and widespread that he decided to remain one day longer. He will preach his last sermon to night. Last night he delivered a very powerful sermon on "Paying Vows." It was a great sermon and produced a profound impression.

He mentioned the different circumstances in which men make vows, such as sickness, danger, trouble and sorrow over sin. He told of the conversion of several persons who had carried with them through many years an unfulfilled vow. He said that David resolved to pay his vow at once and in the presence of all the people.

Dr. Hatcher closed his impressive discourse by an account of an old college mate who, in a time of imminent danger, had promised God that he would be a Christian if he would deliver him. Nineteen persons rose for prayer.

THE MEETINGS AT THIS CHURCH YESTERDAY were largely attended and deeply interesting. Dr. Broughton delivered two admirable discourses, and there is evidently a great work being done. Last night he spoke on "Prisoners of Hope," and at the close there were over twenty inquirers and four persons joined the church.

To-day he will preach at 4 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Mr. George Argabrite, of Lynchburg, has arrived and will lead the singing. Dr. Broughton is attracting people from all quarters of the city and many were present from Portsmouth. Dr. A. E. Owen and Rev. Messrs. Leake and Rutledge were present.

The Rev. Dr. Bolder performed the ceremony, after which the newly wedded couple and numerous invited guests repaired to No. 16 New Street, where a sumptuous repast was enjoyed. The bride and groom will reside in Smith street.

Business Men's Association. The Board of Directors of the Business Men's Association elected fifteen new members at the last meeting. No business organization in our city has shown a bolder front and promoted the general interests of our city since the war than the Business Men's Association, and it should be not only the duty, but the pleasure of every business or professional man to become a member of this organization.

Coming In. New, beautiful and useful novelties for birthday and other gifts. Diamonds and watches can be found in greater variety at Frank H. Gale's than elsewhere. 162 Main street.

AMUSEMENTS. SALVINO.—The annual engagement of Alexander Salvini, which is for this evening, is looked upon as one of the greatest events of the dramatic year, and in view of his several new departures since his last visit which have brought him added fame, his advent on this occasion is likely to appeal stronger than ever to those who take an interest in the better aims of the drama. In this city Salvini has probably a more substantial following than any of the greater stars of the stage. He has accomplished what in vain—his generation have attempted to do—has made the modern stage resound to the echo with the jargon of old time romances. Salvini does not give one the impression that he is speaking the lines of a Dumas or Hugo, but rather that these writers of bygone days have found a new voice, a new individuality wherewith they may once more bring out their hot-blooded, fascinating heroes, and exhibit their glittering fetters with the same responsive enthusiasm as of old. There is much curious comment concerning the "Student of Salamanca," in which play Salvini makes his first appearance here as a light comedian. A very merry evening is expected.

DEATH OF MR. WALTER M. MILLER. Mr. Walter M. Miller, one of Norfolk's old citizens, died at his home, No. 136 Boush street, yesterday at 12 o'clock. During the yellow fever in 1855 he was one of the sufferers, being stricken down by the disease, and came near dying.

When his health was restored he resumed business and continued till the breaking out of the war. He was a man of the strongest Southern proclivities, but owing to ill health could not enter the Confederate service. After the war he was associated in business with the late Lycurgus Berkley, and later was of the firm of Berkley, Miller & Co. For the past twelve years he has been with Messrs. Grandy & Taylor.
